Happy Father's Day

FATHER

A rock of strength to lean upon in time of joy or stress; An understanding, loyal soul, A heart of tenderness, A mind all wisdom, knowing how justice and love to blend; A teacher, loving, patient, kind. My FATHER and my friend.

A Moment To Spur

And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds. (Hebrews 10:24)

Spur Someone Today

Last year a research team from San Diego State University looked at whether a simple sign could persuade people to better choices. For 10 non-consecutive days they posted a placard in front of an airport escalator encouraging travelers to take the stairs instead.

Some examples:

- Please reserve the escalator for those who need it.
- Don't lose time, lose weight. Use the stairs.
- If you want to feel younger, act younger. Step it up! Use the stairs.

The result? On days when the sign was present, twice as many people took the stairs.

Significantly, the prompts appeared to work for everyone: those who never exercise and those who exercise frequently were both persuaded to take the stairs this time — because of the sign.

Sometimes all you need is a little nudge. Maybe a note strategically placed near the refrigerator, near the door, near your computer, near your sofa, near your Bible is all you need to make the next good decision. Who knows? It could work.

Those close to you could sometimes use a nudge, too. (A nudge, not a nag.) Most of us know what we need to do, but apparently it helps to be reminded.

The Holy Spirit urges us, through the pen of the Apostle Paul, to nudge, remind, encourage one another. He used the word spur in Hebrews 10:24: And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds.

Let's see if we can make it habit to remind ourselves and gently spur one another.

YOUR BEST ARGUMENT

Albert Schweitzer was a theologian, humanitarian, musician, and medical missionary.

For many years he was also the target of a great deal of criticism. Some didn't like his theology, others didn't like his way of ministering to the poor and caring for the sick. So, naturally, they talked bad about him.

Instead of explaining himself or campaigning for himself or debating with the naysayers, he just kept working.

In a letter to a friend, he explained his reasoning: "I decided that I would make my life my argument."

As you no doubt know, over the course of time he won the argument. He did, ultimately, get the recognition he deserved, including a Nobel Peace Prize.

Make it your ambition to lead a quiet life: You should mind your own business and work with your hands, just as we told you, so that your daily life may win the respect of outsiders and so that you will not be dependent on anybody.

(1 Thessalonians 4:11-12)
